Multisystemic Therapy (MST)

Hope. Health. Together

www.Health.Solutions

- MST is a family home based treatment for youth between the ages of 10 and 17 years of age who are exhibiting high-risk behaviors like aggression, problems at school, substance use, not complying with household rules, etc.
- The central goal of MST is to empower caregivers to effectively manage their child's behaviors within the home

MST strives to:

- Keep youth safely at home, in schools, and working
- Divert youth from the legal system and help resolve existing legal issues
- Reduce other types of anti-social behaviors such as drug involvement and criminal behaviors

This evidence-based program is scientifically proven to transform lives!
